Green Sea Turtles

Green sea turtles are the largest hard-shelled sea turtles. They got their name because their fat is green.

Green sea turtles live in warm water. Unlike other turtles, green sea turtles' heads can not be pulled back into their shells.

Female green sea turtles swim back to mate in their birthplaces. They dig nests on the beach to lay eggs in and cover them with sand.

Newborn green sea turtles crawl from the beach to the sea by the light. On the way, crabs and seabirds might eat them.

My shell is not hard enough to protect me. So, I have to be very careful.
