

KYODO NEWS / ASSOCIATED PRESS

4 Celebrating a very long life

Chitetsu Watanabe, 112 years and 344 days old, has been named the world's oldest man by Guinness World Records. Watanabe, who was born in Niigata, northern Japan, in 1907, was honored with a certificate Wednesday at a nursing home in Niigata. His advice for longevity? Don't get angry and keep smiling.