

Back in the day: 8/7/65

STAR-ADVERTISER ARCHIVE

In a scene from "Hawaii," a film based on James Michener's novel of the same name, Hawaii's Ali'i Nui Malama Kanakoa, played by Jocelyne LaGarde, is hoisted onto the missionary ship Thetis when it arrives in Lahaina. The multimillion-dollar production, which also stars Julie Andrews, Max von Sydow and Richard Harris, is set for release in the fall of 1966.