George - I recently attended your lecture at Bishop Museum on the Magical Sea Turtles, and loved it. I am interested in helping to your tracking efforts and have a handful of the sighting report cards. I have two questions -

1. I surf and kayak alot on the N. shore and at Maile Beach. Often turtles are present in the surfing areas. Usually when I see them it's a clear view of the head, and a not so clear view of the shell and general size under the surface. Also, I suspect that it's the same turtle at the same sights, sometimes. Do you want even these reported, and the site estimator? or do I need solid estimates.

2. I spend alot of time in the water in the small Bay between Maile Pt and the Maile Cove Condo (family lives in one of those 10-12 beach houses). Regularly I see turtles there, often in the same spot of the reef and I believe there's two that "live" there, a smaller one and a larger one (2.5-3 ft shell). Do you want every sighting of these guys reported?

The reason I ask these questions is that I hesitate to flood you with the Sighting Report forms if the information is ~~is~~ repetitive or less than complete. Please send some guidelines so I can effectively contribute to the effort. Thank you again for the informative and entertaining lecture.

Dear George,

Sighted a strange turtle yesterday (3/26) about 5:00PM. I had been surfing at the break called "turtles" in Maunalua Bay. On the way back in, right at edge of the reef, I saw something floating that looked like a turtle.

Paddled over to take a closer look. It appeared to be sick or injured. The shell was 1-1/2 to 2 feet front to back, but seemed narrower than other turtles. There seemed to be moss growing on the shell. The eyes appeared to protrude, and there was white around the eyes.

I was able to approach it. It did not react when I spoke to it. It only dove when I reached out and patted it's shell.

I was out again today, but did not see it.

In a case such as this, is there any thing that I can do for a turtle that is sick or injured?

Yours,

Bob

Turtle seen midway up beach. Initially it seemed sluggish and unresponsive. After some disturbance by passers by it went to the waters edge and swam away. No tumors, no visible tags.

Dear George,

A short note on a turtle sighting.

My wife and I spent the week-end of February 11 and 12 at the Turtle Bay. The morning of the 12th, at 8:30 am, my wife showed me a small turtle feeding about 10 feet from shore. It's shell was about 1 1/2 across, and it's head was light tan. The spot was about 300 to 400 feet, in the Sunset Beach direction from the hotel. It remained in the area for some time.

Later that morning, at 10:00 am, I was paddling out to go surfing. About 300 feet out from shore where we saw the small turtle, I saw another. It was about 2 feet across, and had a dark tan head.

Yours,

Bob

you may find that my name occurs quite frequently, it is due to the fact that I swim everyday, 2 times a day. Mornings & afternoons. I <sup>HONO</sup> did have a slice which has healed in his left flipper. The others seemed normal.
