

Back in the Day: 6/24/81

STAR-ADVERTISER ARCHIVE

Yesterday was the last day of business at Everybody's Super Market at Kapiolani Boulevard and McCully Street. The land has been subleased to Host Duty Free operations by Chun Hoon Ltd., which owns Chun Hoon's and Everybody's Markets. By noon yesterday, the shelves at Everybody's were half empty. Every item was discounted 20%, and there was a steady stream of customers going in and out of the store. Some of them came to say goodbye to old friends — the clerks, cashiers and butchers.