Dear Dr. Balazs

These are abstract book(2019 한국해양학회 - Abstracts_1024.pdf) and poster(poster.pdf) of that: (attached as pdfs)

Lim, J, Park, B., Park, S., and Kim, T. (2019) Spatiotemporal distribution of marine trash in the subtidal zone of the Saekdal beach in Jeju Island. Annual Meeting of Korean Society of Oceanography.

Thanks you.

Dear Team, With 2019 now freshly behind us, I wanted to take a moment to mention, request, and suggest the following:

1). would someone please send me these two articles, cited in the newsletter note submitted to Pices;

Lim, J, Park, B., Park, S., and Kim, T. (2019) Spatiotemporal distribution of marine trash in the subtidal zone of the Saekdal beach in Jeju Island. Annual Meeting of Korean Society of Oceanography.

Min, Y. S. (2011). Folk beliefs of Jeju Women Diver as Principles for the coexistence. 실천민속학연구, (18), 123-165.2

2). The following article is, in my view, the single-most comprehensive overview paper on Korea's sea turtles-

Jo and Hykle \(2012\) Insights into sea turtle conservation in the Republic of Korea. IOSEA Newsletter, August 2012.

I kindly recommend that we regularly include it as a reference in items we write about our project;

3). Mr. IM thank you so very much for going to the trouble to create an email address that works for those of us outside of Korea. That was very much appreciated ;

4). To clarify, we collect tissue samples of skin and/or muscle primarily for mtDNA genetics analysis. At present gender can not be ascertained from such samples;

5). May we all please know what the new permit requirements are for our work that were recently mentioned as having been changed;

6). I'm committed to visiting Jeju in 2020, please advise me what time frame would be best in terms of involvement in and observations of our project activities;

and last, but not least

7). MABIK- I feel we really do need to reach out to them in 2020 to develop sincere lines of communication and information exchange. To treat one another as colleagues, and eventually as genuine friends. I'm very willing and interested in being the point-person for our team for such an effort- both before and during my planned visit later this year. I look to all of you for guidance on how and with whom to carefully proceed.

Best Regards, George
