

Back in the day: 10/4/73

STAR-ADVERTISER ARCHIVE

Roland Kouke, second from left, and his friends — Jay White, left, Harold Fenton and Kurt Mench — were able to wrangle and spear a 450-pound sea bass off West Molokai that Kouke encountered while he was swimming 30 feet below the surface.