About Us

Jack's of Fiji is an iconic Fijian brand with a rich heritage of customer service, authentic products and community engagement spanning over 49 years. Jack's of Fiji, established as Jack's Handicraft in 1969 was then known as a handicraft and souvenir store, that one store has grown into a chain of stores Fiji-wide offering fashion, resort wear and best souvenirs of Fiji. Jack's of Fiji values working with the Fijian craftspeople to enhance and create opportunities locally, making us one of the largest contributors to our local industry, supporting hundreds of people in villages and towns around Fiji.

If you are in Fiji, you are sure to find a Jack's of Fiji store nearby so do not miss to visit us and find out more!

Fijian Heritage to your home

Since 1969, Jack's of Fiji has been working with local communities at grassroot level to showcase Fiji's finest authentic arts and crafts to the world.

We are committed to preserving and promoting authentic Fijian handicrafts and artifacts

Woven & Masi Delights

Grab for yourself an authentic, handmade, woven handicraft combined with masi cloth. Masi, also known as tapa cloth, is made from the bark of the mulberry tree. The woven products are made from voivoi (Pandanus) leaves, which are scraped, boiled and dried in the sun before being interwoven into detailed and artistic patterns.
