at Fort Wilderness

IT IS THE YEAR 1812 AS FRONTIERSMAN DONALD DUCK AND HIS NEPHEWS REACH THE OUTPOST OF CIVILIZATION... FORT WILDERNESS.

Raise the FLAG over FORT WILDERNESS

The year is 1812. Each morning at dawn, Sergeant Mickey and Frontiersman Donald raise the flag over Fort Wilderness. To reconstruct this early morning scene, paste the framed scene on cardboard and cut out. Now, poke a sharp-pointed pencil through the dots at Donald's hand and the top of the flagpole. Then, push a piece of string fourteen inches long through the holes and tie behind the picture, at the top of the flagpole. Next, cut out the double flag and fold in the center, pasting the flags back to back around the string just above Donald's hands. To raise the flag, pull the knot down until the stars and stripes fly high over Fort Wilderness!
