

Photo taken on December 29.

I cut the sharp resin tip that appears to be cutting into the carapace. (It was difficult to file it off.)

The yellowish appearance of the scab area is due to disinfection with iodine.

Photo taken on December 26.

